

Soul sister

Something's discovered; they don't let it show.
They don't tell the world; neither wants to go.
A touch of the arm, a glance away
Something's happened, neither will say.

There was something in her eyes, that's still with him today.
Something in her eyes, soul sister from BA.

He sees her mouth moving; there must be some sound.
Words appear; he muddles around.

Something's discovered; they don't let it show,
They don't tell the world; neither wants to go.

The hours pass, the street is a scene.
The cars and the noise, the shops in-between.
A touch of the arm, a glance away;
something's happened, neither will say.

There was something in her eyes, that's still with him today.
Something in her eyes, soul sister from BA.
